PROBLEM STATEMENT:

As a Teacher work with groups of students to teach them specific course with one or more secretary to do basic operations. Secretary must collect all their personal information at the beginning of year. Also exams and quizzes degrees after each one of them .the same with attendance for each student in all groups and money management for teacher. All this data collected and written in papers day by day. In other hand, if any parent want to check his/her son/daughter results, teacher must sit with him and search in papers to make report about its student. A lot of wasted time to do simple operations.

SERVICE REQUEST:

I request a thorough analysis of our current operations with the intent to design and build a completely new information system. This system should handle students register for our web Application .store all personal information about students (id, name, address, phone number and information about parent) .Also exams, quizzes, attendance and money management data day by day. In other hands, system should make reports about stored data like exams, quizzes and attendance .finally, let parents sign in and view the reports of his/her son/daughter .
